

The IIS was established in 2006 to support the development of high performance sport in Ireland. The Institute is performance focused, coach led and athlete centred. It is dedicated to assisting athletes in their progression to the highest levels in international sport, through the provision of individualised and team programmes and services.

Irish Institute of Sport, Marine Institute
Building, Abbotstown, Dublin 15

IRISH INSTITUTE OF OF SPORT

■ Technical Director (Fixed term contract)

This is an opportunity to play a leading role in the Irish Institute of Sport, which will take high performance sport in Ireland to a new level. In doing so the role will require: -

- the provision of leadership and strategic direction to the IIS in all matters related to high performance coaching
- working with key stakeholders and agencies, including National Coaching and Training Centre, National Governing Bodies of sport and 3rd level institutions
- representing the IIS in matters dealing with the technical elements related to high performance - including facility provision, equipment and technical innovations
- contributing as a team member to the ethos and delivery of the IIS mission statement

All interested candidates should view the full job description which is available online at www.irishsportsCouncil.ie and should satisfy themselves that they possess the essential criteria before applying.

Closing date for applications is noon on Friday 5th October 2007. All CVs should be sent to Alan O'Hare, HR Executive, Irish Sports Council, Top Floor, Block A, Westend Office Park, Blanchardstown, Dublin 15 or via email to aohare@irishsportsCouncil.ie

The Irish Institute of Sport is an equal opportunities employer

WWW.IRISHSPORTSCOUNCIL.IE