

The IIS was established in 2006 to support the development of high performance sport in Ireland. The Institute is performance focused, coach led and athlete centred.

It is dedicated to assisting athletes in their progression to the highest levels in international sport, through the provision of individualised and team programmes and services.

Irish Institute of Sport, National Sports Campus,
Snugborough Road, Blanchardstown, Dublin 15

IRISH INSTITUTE OF SPORT

■ Deputy Director of Sports Science (Fixed term contract)

This is an opportunity to play a critical role in the Irish Institute of Sport (IIS), which will take high performance sport in Ireland to a new level. In doing so the role will require:

- Co-ordinating the development and implementation of world-class applied sports science service for IIS targeted athletes
- The co-ordination of applied research and service enhancement projects funded by the IIS
- Working with the Institute team to create a world leading high performance training environment
- The targeting of identified sports and focusing on interventions that will enhance performance outcomes at major championships
- Liaison with third level institutions in the delivery of sports science practitioners, research and service delivery

All interested candidates should view the full job description which is available online at www.irishsportsCouncil.ie and should satisfy themselves that they possess the essential criteria before applying.

Closing date for applications is noon on Friday 12th October 2007. All CVs should be sent to Alan O'Hare, HR Executive, Irish Sports Council, Top Floor, Block A, Westend Office Park, Blanchardstown, Dublin 15 or via email to aohare@irishsportsCouncil.ie

The Irish Institute of Sport is an equal opportunities employer

WWW.IRISHSPORTSCOUNCIL.IE